

Project Brief: Ghost Facts

Ghosts are spectral remnants of humans who are no longer alive. While ghosts themselves don't need a website, there should be a website that tells people what they need to know about these spirits so that they'll be prepared if they ever run into one.

The site will have pages for notable ghosts, ghost philosophy, and ghost facts intuitively branching off of a main page. The site will be primarily text based with pictures fitting in to explain key concepts nor aid with identification.
